

WINTER SPECIAL ON ALL MODELS

Book your Free Winter Health Check

This winter 40,000 vehicles will break down every day, with the typical repair bill being over £400. Make sure your car is ready – have it checked.

The cold weather's not very good for your car. In fact, it can cause lots of problems. During the winter many parts, like your wipers and lights are used more. This can result in parts failing and worse still, your car breaking down.

Research by Warranty Direct shows that average repair cost is over £400 (for parts most likely to fail in the winter). It's why you should have your car checked.
